Depending on the state you reside in, you will be eligible to apply for unemployment benefits online, in person, on the phone or by mailing in a claim form. Since those early days of chaos, most states have adapted and made improvements to handle all the claims. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 820 to 821 are not shown in this preview. The following command runs the rescue_cell.cli file using the CellCLI start command: $ dbmcli -e start /location/on/remote/server/rescue_db.cli You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 694 to 721 are not shown in this preview. Moreover, if you willingly quit your job, are an independent contractor or otherwise self-employed, or can't go back to work for health or other reasons, you might not qualify. These types of requests are typically very time sensitive. Photo Courtesy: Justin Sullivan/Getty Images In some cases, an unemployment official will interview you to clarify and verify details regarding your case and your identity. In Exadata releases earlier than 12.2.1.1.0, after a storage server or database server rescue, you need to re-run multiple commands to configure items such as IORM plans, thresholds, and storage server and database server notification setting. After you rescue the server, you can retrieve the file from the remote server and run the file to restore the settings. If you're wondering how to file a claim after all the changes, we can help you figure it out. If you fail to file your weekly claim, your benefits may be delayed or stopped altogether. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 554 to 650 are not shown in this preview. While you may be breathing an initial sigh of relief once your initial claim is processed, be sure to maintain your eligibility status by continuing your job search as directed. Step 6: File Your Weekly Payment Request and Keep Up the Job Search Once you start receiving unemployment benefits, you have to file weekly or biweekly (varies by state) payment requests online to be paid — no exceptions. These steps may take place as you're filing your application, or they could be the last steps in determining your eligibility. Although this rule may vary by state at times due to special circumstances (like a global pandemic), the general rule of thumb is that you're expected to pursue work leads every week and report your work search efforts in your weekly claim. Do you have COVID-19-specific questions about unemployment benefits and stimulus checks? The following command runs the rescue_cell.cli file using the CellCLI start command: $ cellcli -e start /location/on/remote/server/rescue_cell.cli Example 1-11 Creating a Rescue Plan script for a database server The following command stores the commands in the rescuePlan attribute to a file called rescue_db.cli located on a remote server. Additionally, if your application is denied for any reason, you have the right to file an appeal to try to overturn the denial. Step 3: Verify Your Identity During the initial application process, each state's unemployment division will ask you to verify and authenticate your identity. Set up email notifications, if possible, and watch closely for any messages requesting additional information. In Oracle Exadata release 12.2.1.1.0, there is a new attribute called rescuePlan for the cell and observer objects. $ cellcli -e list cell attributes rescuePlan >& /location/on/remote/server/rescue_cell.cli If you need to rescue the server, you can run the script after the server rescue to restore the settings. Texas, for example, waived their work search requirement for many months but reinstated it on November 1. When you are done configuring your database servers and storage servers, you should save the value of the rescuePlan attribute to a file. Even worse, months later, many jobless people were still desperately trying to cut through all the red tape and the massive volume of people to file their own unemployment claims. See Example 3 below. To qualify for unemployment, an individual who lost their job must be eligible for work, able to work and actively seeking employment. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 106 to 172 are not shown in this preview. The file should be saved to a remote server because the data on the rescued server will be erased in the event of a rescue. You'll be required to answer some questions about any work you completed each week as well as any other income you received. The state agency will provide guidance on that as well as any other issues that could impact your claim. Step 2: Determine Your Eligibility As stated earlier, you need to meet certain criteria in order to be eligible for unemployment benefits. It depends on the reason you were fired, and the rules vary by state. These state-run agencies give people access to job listings and career training resources, and registration is mandatory to receive your unemployment insurance benefits. During this interview, you will be asked specific questions about your employment background and other information mentioned in your claim. The online process isn't just helpful for pandemic safety reasons. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 508 to 522 are not shown in this preview. Long story short, where you're currently residing might not be the state that will pay you unemployment benefits if you haven't lived there long. In most cases, you will file a claim with the state where you most recently worked, but if you recently relocated from another state, that may not be the case. Photo Courtesy: JGI/Tom Grill/Getty Images After you've lost your job, contact your state unemployment agency as soon as possible. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 48 to 74 are not shown in this preview. In some cases, people who were fired, suspended or asked to take a leave of absence don't qualify for unemployment. Virtual systems also reduce errors and speed up the claim process. If you have any difficulty locating your local center, contact your state unemployment agency for assistance. If you lost your job due to the pandemic or other reasons, here are the steps to take next to file an unemployment claim online. Step 1: Contact Your State Unemployment Agency Whether you were laid off because of the pandemic or lost your job due to other unforeseen circumstances, filing for unemployment benefits is one way to cover a portion of your monthly bills while you're between jobs. If you fail to answer the questions correctly — or don't consent to this process — you will most likely be asked to provide the agency with documents that verify your identity. Step 4: File Your Claim Once you confirm your eligibility, it's time to file your claim. If you want to make sure your claim isn't delayed, be sure to complete all the sections fully and accurately. Nearly all unemployment agencies accept claims online, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. (Exceptions are currently in place to qualify independent contractors and the self-employed, but those rules expire at the end of 2020.) Photo Courtesy: Stefan Wermuth/Bloomberg/Getty Images Each state has different compliance requirements with respect to minimum wages and working hours, so we recommend consulting your state's unemployment agency for details. You're Reading a Free Preview Pages 675 to 681 are not shown in this preview. For security reasons, the rescue plan does not include configurations that require a password. Photo Courtesy: svetikd/E+/Getty Images Finally, it's important to keep in mind that unemployment benefits are usually contingent upon a recipient doing their part to actively look for a new job. Without a doubt, the ongoing pandemic throws a bit of a wrench into the process of actively seeking work, so that component may vary from state to state and could change at any time. Step 5: Collect Your Unemployment Benefits Most claims are processed within two to three calendar weeks or 10 business days, although delays could occur during times of high claim volumes.
